

Title:

2024 Christmas Card

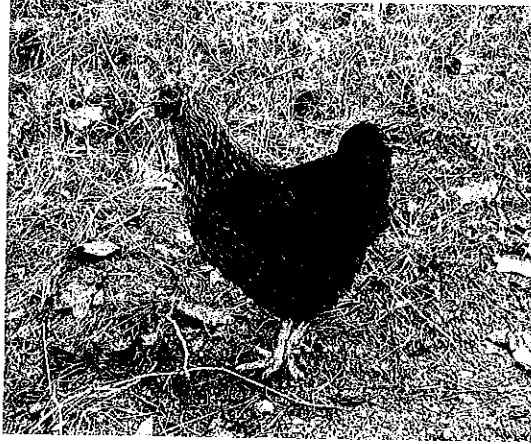

Sub-Category:

Poetry

Author:

Laurie Schneider

2024 Christmas Card

'Twas the night before Christmas
and all through the coop,
not a chicken was stirring for feared they'd be soup.

The hens were all snuggled
deep in their nest,
except for just one who could find no rest.

She stayed up all night
pondering great things,
like reindeer flying without any wings.

Hoping to glimpse
St. Nick and his deer, traveling the sky without any fear.

But sleep finally came and she slept all night long,
and awoke Christmas morning clucking a song.

For she missed seeing Santa
but that was okay,
for under her feathers her first egg she did lay!

She couldn't be happier
at this special time of year,
hopeful and praying that we all eat more deer.

Merry Christmas!